Porsche Sim Racing Experience

Your professional way into virtual GT3 Cup Racing

What's it all about?

Porsche Sim Racing Experience

» In times with less real racing action, we are taking the racetracks into your living rooms. The new sim racing platform of our Porsche Racing Experience is the ideal entry program into the world of virtual motorsports for customers with race circuit experience who want to prepare professionally for future challenges.

Adapted training content for sim racing

- » Coaching by Porsche instructors and engineers
- » Professional training offerings
- » A variety of individually bookable modules
- » Race relevant training content

How is the Porsche Sim Racing Platform structured?

- The platform combines the simulation Assetto Corsa and the communication application Discord, both being hosted on a proprietary server structure
- The program is available to a selected group of customers
 - Open-Server-Time: 24/7, completed by a race day at the end of each week
 - Weekly varying, official tracks from Assetto Corsa
- The various individually bookable modules are based upon the Porsche 911 GT3 Cup Gen II (991) and are realistically applicable to racing, e.g. track knowledge, braking points, passing maneuvers, gear selection, etc.
- Depending on the individual module the coaching is lead by instructors and engineers of the Porsche Racing Experience

What Hardware is required?

- Standard equipment must consist of a basic configuration of sim racing hardware
- Recommendations on hardware and additional equipment can be given on demand
